Intent

We now prepare ourselves
For the cold and the darkness that is coming.
Summer is ended, and Autumn begins.
We cast off those things that hinder us
And reach for those things of future promise.
And grow well.

Activity

On a piece of paper write down the things that you have accomplished over the twelve months. These successes are the things that you can give thanks for.

We then pass around a plate of fruit and some cider
"Together we give thanks to the Gods for this sign of joyful harvest. To the beauty of autumn and those friends we treasure."
